

Condor Alternative Legal Solutions

Condor is an alternative legal solutions business helping customers of all sizes achieve more at a lower pricing point than a traditional law firm. By combining cutting-edge technology, skilled resources and innovative practices, Condor is able to deliver efficient and cost-effective solutions, whilst benefiting from the knowledge and quality assurance of leading law firm partners.

With an appreciation that no two businesses are exactly alike, and a collaborative approach, we are able to tailor-make solutions specific to your needs, delivering meaningful and practical value to your business.

“Combining cutting-edge technology, skilled resources and innovative practices...”

“Commercially we offer an alternative approach to the traditional time and materials model...”

Our product suite covers day-to-day legal process outsourcing, regulatory or event-driven projects, contingent resourcing and digital transformation of the legal function.

Commercially we offer an alternative approach to the traditional time and materials model, aligning costs with specified deliveries, be those project milestones, completed negotiations or other achievable outcomes. This commercial approach enables us to ensure that we deliver real, measurable value to our clients.

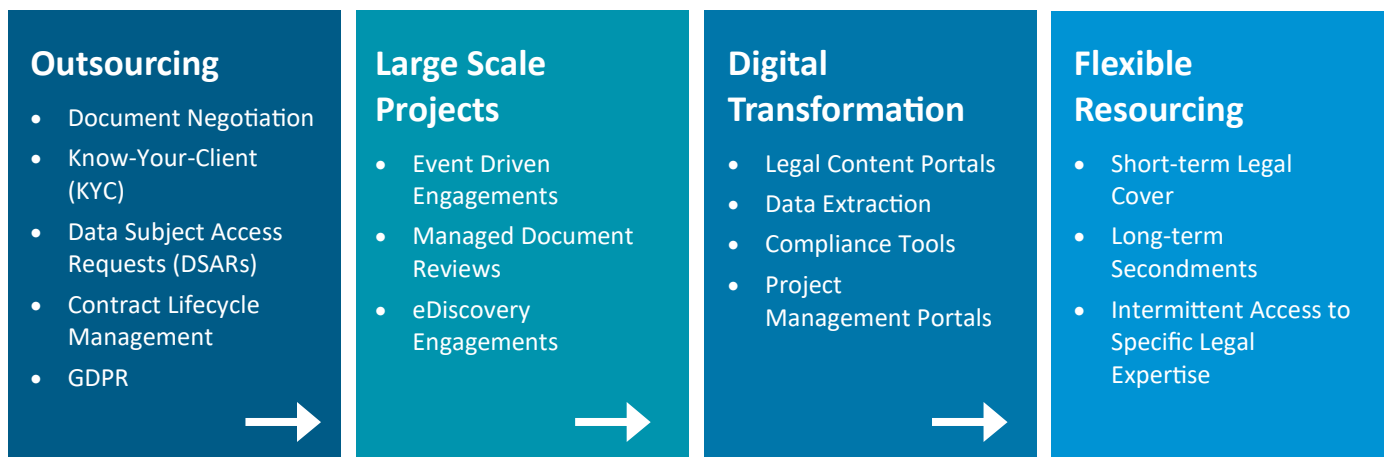

How does Condor work with clients?

In-house legal teams are often asked to deal with functions that take time and attention away from more value-adding and business critical functions. This could be ad-hoc projects, such as responding to changing regulatory requirements, lower value contract lifecycle management including supplier contract drafting and negotiation or even embedding technology into processes to deliver legal services more efficiently.

Through collaborative workshop sessions and discussions with your team, Condor will design an end-to-end plan to achieve your goals, along with the associated commercial value proposition. With an attractive array of resourcing options, technology tools and legal expertise, we offer solutions that optimise quality of output against both time and cost parameters.

- Process design — taking ideas from conception we design the most optimal and bespoke solution to your business challenges going beyond the traditional law firm offering.
- Expertise — Experienced Fieldfisher lawyers who are subject matter experts in various legal sectors provide oversight and advisory on Condor ALS engagements.
- Resources — Using our skilled teams of paralegals and legal executives based near-shore, and our project management expertise, we are able to resource your requirements in a way that is both cost-effective and efficient.
- Technology — We implement our suite of cutting-edge technology tools which provide efficiency both on legal matters and project management.

What we do

Our unique proposition

Our clients achieve maximum value from the flexibility, scalability, innovation and technology of alternative legal services, while agreeing where exactly in the process experienced lawyers' oversight or input is needed.
